How Do You Use Your Internet Connection?

Did you know the average US household has around 8 Internet connected devices? This includes computers, tablets, smart phones, smart TV's, gaming systems, and streaming video boxes such as Roku and Apple. Each device uses a portion of the available internet bandwidth in your home.

With a download speed of 25 Mbps the average WCCTA customer should have a pleasant experience; however, if all these devices are competing for bandwidth at the same time? That could ultimately slow down the Internet for everyone in your home.

Although WCCTA has a Fiber driven network with Gigabit capability, customers can choose an Internet package balancing price and speeds. When choosing your Internet plan keep in mind the number of devices used simultaneously.
